Message from Chief Executive

I welcome this new Disability Inclusion Strategy for Kilkenny County Council. This strategy gives Kilkenny County Council a focused road map while working towards providing a universally accessible environment and services. This strategy will also assist Kilkenny County Council in working towards enhancing the quality of life for people with disabilities in County Kilkenny.

Council Departments have been responsible for developing key actions and reporting on how accessible their services are. This review took place between 2022 and mid-2023. As part of our review, consultation and engagement also took place with employees of Kilkenny County Council and the Kilkenny Access Group.

Kilkenny County Council are committed to continue to review the services, buildings facilities to ensure that our organisation is accessible to all.

I would like to thank all those who contributed to the consultation process and to those who were involved in the preparation of this strategy and action plan.

Introduction

The Kilkenny County Council Disability Strategy is guided by the National Disability Inclusion Strategy 2017-2022. The National Disability Inclusion Strategy (2017-2021) (NDIS), was launched in 2017 and was originally intended to run for five years until the end of 2021, it was later extended to 2022. The National Strategy is a whole-of-government approach to improving the lives of people with disabilities. It provides a significant framework for all activity across government departments and agencies. This supports progress in delivering on the obligations in the United Nations Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities (UNCRPD) which was ratified in March 2018.

In this document, the terms “people/persons with disabilities” and “disabled people” are used interchangeably. The term “disabled people” is recognised by many within the disability rights movement in Ireland to align with the social model and human rights approach of disability, as it is considered to acknowledge the fact that people with an impairment are disabled by barriers in the environment and society. However, it is also recognised that others prefer the term “people/persons with disabilities” because of the inherent understanding in the term that they are first and foremost human beings entitled to human rights. This also reflects the language used in the UNCRPD. It is recognised that many people with an intellectual disability, people with a mental health difficulty or psycho-social disability prefer person-first language. It is also recognised that some people do not identify with either term.

Background Information

Barcelona Agreement

When Ireland signed the Barcelona Declaration in March 1995, which contains Seventeen Agreements that relate to a broad range of access issues it committed to making Ireland a more accessible environment for people with disabilities. This meant that, among other things, Ireland's built environment, services and decision-making processes would become more accessible. Kilkenny Local Authorities adopted the Barcelona Declaration and in doing so committed themselves to creating a more inclusive society for people with disabilities and to establishing structures for ongoing consultation with the advocates of this sector.

Goal / Purpose:

The purpose of the Barcelona Declaration Project is to make Kilkenny a more accessible environment for all by implementing the agreements. The seventeen agreements can be summarised as follows:

1. To promote disability awareness and ensure the rights of people with disabilities to be different and their right to receive personal attention.
2. To develop policies and equality/disability proof decision-making processes.
3. To develop consultative processes.
4. To provide people with disabilities access to the social and physical environments as well as services
5. To provide training programmes dealing with equality/disability issues
6. To develop monitoring, evaluation and impact assessment procedures for actions, projects and policies regarding equality/disability issues.

Other notable documents include;

The UN Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities¹

Ireland has ratified this convention, which sets out the rights of people with disabilities and requires governments to actively take steps to promote and protect those rights.

The Equal Status Acts 2000-2015²

These Acts prohibit discrimination in access to goods and services, including public services on the grounds of disability.

The Building Regulations- Part M³

This section of the building regulations act sets out requirements for the design and construction of buildings to ensure that they are accessible to people with disabilities.

The Accessible Public Transport Charter⁴

This charter outlines the standards of accessibility required for public transport in Ireland.

National Disability Act

The Disability Act was passed in 2005. The Act set out the following definition of disability:

“Disability”, in relation to a person, means a substantial restriction in the capacity of the person to carry on a profession, business or occupation in the State or to participate in social or cultural life in the State by reason of an enduring physical, sensory, mental health or intellectual impairment.

The Disability Act is made up of seven Parts containing fifty-eight Sections.

Local Authority Obligations Under the Disability Act 2005

Part 3 and Part 5 of the Act are relevant to and inform Kilkenny County Council’s Disability Inclusion & Access Strategy.

Sectoral Plans

Part 3 of the Disability Act 2005 required six Government departments to prepare plans (known as sectoral plans) that set out how they will deliver specific services for people with disabilities.

The Department of Environment, Heritage and Local Government Sectoral Plan was published in 2006. It set out a range of measures to be taken by the Department and Local Authorities regarding the improved provision of services to persons with disabilities and set out national objectives and guidelines for access to services and built facilities. The sectoral plan (2006) required each Local Authority to undertake a number of actions including: Draw up an implementation plan setting out a programme to implement the commitments and objectives contained in the Disability Act 2005 and in the sectoral plan.

The implementation plan was published by each local authority. In drawing up their implementation plans, local authorities had to have regard to the funding and staffing resources available to them for implementation. Priority was given to local authority buildings and other facilities to which access is most frequently required as well as accessible public footpaths streets and crossings in urban areas. The plans set out targets and timeframes for carrying out these works to reflect local priorities.

Access and Accessibility: Buildings and Services

In addition, the Disability Act (2005) provides a statutory basis for making public services accessible. Various sections of the Act place specific obligations on local government to ensure universal access to public spaces, buildings and services (including information provision) owned and operated by local authorities nationally. Furthermore, the Act places an obligation on local authorities to integrate disability service provision within mainstream services, where this is practical and appropriate.

Part 3 of the Act places obligations on public bodies to make their public buildings, services and information accessible to people with disabilities.

Specifically, the sections relating to the above obligations are as follows;

Section 25 of the Act requires public bodies to ensure that its public buildings are, as far as practicable, accessible to persons with disabilities, and that all public buildings existing as at the commencement of the Act (31 December 2005) must “as far as practicable” be brought into compliance with Part M of the 1997 Building Regulations by the end of 2015.

Section 26 of Part 3 of the Act – public bodies are required to ensure that their services are accessible for people with disabilities by providing integrated access to mainstream services where practicable and appropriate.

Section 26(2) of the Disability Act 2005 requires that public bodies must authorise at least one of his or its officers (referred to as “access officers” to provide or arrange for and co-ordinate the provision of assistance and guidance to persons with disabilities in accessing its services.

Section 27 of Part 3 of the Act - public bodies are required to ensure that the goods or services that they purchase are accessible, unless it would not be practicable or justifiable on cost grounds or would result in an unreasonable delay

Section 28 of Part 3 of the Act – communications by a public body to a person with a hearing or visual impairment must, as far as practicable, be provided in an accessible format. Information provided electronically must, as far as practicable, be compatible with adaptive technology. Published information, relevant to persons 2 March 2008 with intellectual disabilities must also be, as far as practicable, made available in easy to read formats.

Section 39 - provides that Public Bodies may appoint “inquiry officers” to investigate and make determinations in relation to complaints alleging the failure of the body to comply with section 25, 26, 27, 28 or 29 of the Act. Procedures must be put in place for dealing with such complaints. In the case of a determination that there has been such a failure, Inquiry Officer must outline the steps required to be taken by the public body concerned to comply with the provision concerned.

Employment of People with Disabilities

Part 5 of the Act provides that public bodies take, in so far as practicable, all reasonable measures to promote and support the employment of persons with disabilities. It also provides for a framework for monitoring the employment target for people with disabilities, currently set at 3%, the National Disability Authority has an overall monitoring and reporting role under the Act. The Government have committed to progressively increase the statutory target of 3% of employees with disabilities in the public sector towards 6% by 2024. (Comprehensive Employment Strategy for People with Disabilities 2015 – 2024).

National Disability Inclusion Strategy (2017-2021)

The National Disability Inclusion Strategy (2017-2021) was introduced to promote greater inclusion by people with disabilities in Irish society. One of the key objectives of the strategy is to give legal effect to the principle that mainstream public services should serve people with disabilities alongside other citizens, as set out in the Disability Act 2005.

Key Themes in the strategy centred around

- Education;
- Employment;
- Health and well-being;
- Person-centred disability services;
- Housing;
- Transport and accessible places;
- Equality and choice and
- Joined-up services.

Examples of Kilkenny County Councils Projects

In recent years particularly since the introduction of the 2005 Disability Act, Kilkenny County Council has made significant progress with regard to facilitating people with disabilities, but also acknowledge that more needs to be done.

Some examples of core activities to date include the setting up an accessible Customer Services Desk in County Hall as the first point of contact for customers. New Signs have been erected around County Hall and in other Council Offices for easier access to all Departments. Disabled parking facilities have been improved significantly in both the city and county. From a built environment perspective, a number of council buildings and public offices have been made more accessible, examples include the Castlecomer Area Office which has been relocated to the centre of the town and is now fully accessible with a lift installed, the Callan Area Office and other area offices are also now fully accessible.

Other examples of accessible improvements completed include works onto the Motor Tax Public Office in County Hall and the Housing Department in Johns Green. A new telephone system with brail technologies has also been introduced. Fire alarms are now accessible for people with disabilities. Health and Safety emergency wheel chairs for stairs have been installed at County Hall and in Johns Green House. The Provision of a battery-operated mobile cart in Woodstock is now in place to make access easier for people with mobility issues, in general our parks department have made significant improvements in making our public amenities more accessible. Our housing and roads department continue to ensure that housing and our infrastructure adhere to accessibility guidelines.

From a communication perspective work is presently underway to carry out an updated accessibility audit of the Kilkenny County Council Information Technology Services.

Over the last number of years Kilkenny County Council continue to support the Public Participation Network who in turn support and facilitate the Kilkenny Access Group who in partnership work towards making Kilkenny City and County as accessible as possible.

Committee Members

The Kilkenny County Council Disability Strategy Team members presently include members from the Housing Department, Community & Culture, Human Resources, Environment, Corporate, Roads, Tourism and Enterprise and the Information Technology Department.

Consultations

In the development of this plan, Kilkenny County Council consulted with key departments within the organisation and separate online consultations took place using a detailed online staff survey. This online survey asked staff members a number of questions relating to how accessible the organisation was and a number of recommendations were made. Over 84 staff members responded which is a significant representation from the organisation. Under the Public Participation Network (PPN) the Kilkenny Access group who represent people with disabilities in County Kilkenny were also consulted with directly and a number of recommendations were made, and these recommendations are also reflected in this strategy.
